1. INTRODUCTION	1
1.1. SECOND-LEVEL SUBHEADING	1
1.2. ANOTHER SECOND-LEVEL SUBHEADING	1
1.2.1. THIRD-LEVEL SUBHEADING	1

1. INTRODUCTION

The first-level subheading uses the formatting style Heading 1. It is centered, boldface, single line spaced, and it advances the text after it by two lines (24pt). No extra carriage returns are needed to correctly space the text that follows. First-level subheadings should be in all capital letters. You must capitalize the first-level subheadings yourself. MS Word can simulate Title Case capitalization but it will capitalize the first letter of EVERY word including articles and prepositions. First-level subheadings must not have more than a single blank line space before or after the heading.

1.1. SECOND-LEVEL SUBHEADING

This is the second-level subheading of the first section. The second-level subheading uses the formatting style Heading 2. It is left aligned, boldface and single spaced, and it advances the text after it by one line. Second level subheadings are in Title Case (The first letters of principal words must be capitalized).

1.2. ANOTHER SECOND-LEVEL SUBHEADING

The format of this subheading is the same with the first one. The purpose of this subheading is to show you that if you have a subheading of a certain level, you must have more than one. The rationale is that you cannot have a list of only one item.

1.2.1. THIRD-LEVEL SUBHEADING

The third-level subheading uses the formatting style Heading 3. It uses the same formatting with the second-level subheading except that for the third-level subheading, only the first letter of the first word and proper nouns are capitalized (Sentence case).

1.2.2. ANOTHER THIRD-LEVEL SUBHEADING

The heading above shows that if you have a subheading of a certain level, you must have more than one. The rationale is that you cannot have a list of only one item.
